Games in District Tournament Show Mandan and Bismarck Teams Easily The Best

Bismarck and Mandan high school basketball teams will meet tonight on the Mandan floor to determine which shall represent the Bismarck-Mandan district in the state tournament to be held on the A. C. floor in Fargo March 24 and 25.

These teams have defeated all the others who were present at the district tournament which is being held at Mandan, in games played yesterday afternoon and last night in Mandan.

Rodney Love, Mandan's center, has been under physician's care because of a strained tendon, according to reports from the Mandan camp. He was expected to play part of the game tonight. Williams, a substitute, also is injured, it was said, having a knee in a plaster cast. Doyle, Bismarck guard, was used only in part of the game yesterday because of recent illness.

The opening game was played between Napoleon and Wilton high school teams. Wilton defeated their opponents by a score of 39 to 17. The game was an easy victory for the Wilton five throughout, the first half ending 25 to 7. In the last half the Napoleon boys made an effort at recovery but found themselves too far behind.

Bismarck Beats Ashley.

Bismarck and Ashley played the next game which started at 8:30. Bismarck had little trouble in running a high score in the first half, the Ashley team not being used to a large floor, the half ending Bismarck 27, Ashley 6. During the last half the Ashley team showed little improvement and did not give the Bismarck team a hard fight. Final score, Bismarck, 49; Ashley, 10. Line-up and summary:

Mandan Beats Steele.

Mandan not having an afternoon game played Steele at 7:30 P. M. It was a close game for the first ten minutes, the Steele forwards proving to be very good shots. Mandan's offense proved too much for Steele in the last half of the game, Mandan winning by a score of 36 to 16.

Wahlitz Steele's captain, was able to play only a short time. Line-up and summary:

Bismarck Drubs Wilton.

Bismarck and Wilton having won in both afternoon contests, played the second of the evening games. Bismarck won by a decisive score of 75 to 13. After the showing which the Wilton team made in the afternoon a fairly good game was expected. Instead Wilton was on the short end of the highest score which the Bismarck team has made this season. The game started and ended with a rush by Bismarck, the Wilton team hardly getting a look at the basket during the first half, which ended Bismarck 34, Wilton 7. In the last half the scoring was much more decisive, the Coal Miners only making two baskets.

WOMEN OBLIGED TO PAY POLL

Women of the state are obliged to pay the $1 school poll tax but not the road poll. Tax Commissioner C. C. Converse has informed an inquirer from Ransom county. The ruling obtained under the former tax commissioner who held that women were obliged to pay the poll tax last year. The law provides that each elector must pay poll tax, the suffrage amendment made women electors, the commissioner said.

STARTING AS STORE CLERK
RICH CO-ED MAKES GOOD

Mary T. Sloss

BY GENE COHN
Oakland, Cal., March 11.—Pretty Mary T. Sloss graduated from Stanford university an honor student. Her parents had money—plenty of it.

Then Miss Sloss announced that she was going to take a job as a salesgirl in a department store.

Her friends scoffed.
"What's the use of a college education if you are going behind a counter?" they asked.

"I'm going after business success and to get it I'll have to start in at the bottom and learn all the tricks of the trade," Miss Sloss replied.

"If a person is really going to attain success, all ends of the business sea's heading for must be mastered."

So the Stanford coed became a salesgirl at a very modest salary.

Just the other day she resigned her $5.00 a year job as a buyer for the store. She has cut down her position and gave it up to enter business for herself, with $10,000 a year ahead.

"You can't round the social circles and square yourself with business life at the same time," she says. "Of course my friends were shocked."

"The thing they thought I should have done was to have gone in for music, artistic dancing and esthetic things of one kind and another."

"But I have a $5.00 job to show for my efforts and a future that looks like double the money and what have they?"

"I still stand by what I told my friends when I left school. If you're going to be a success in business, you have to learn that business from the ground up."

"Of course, a college education will help you. They want intelligent people in business. The college girl has a splendid chance. If she gets down to dead work and digs she won't stay long at the 'lark job'."

MORTON COUNTY
TOWNS DEMAND
TAXES LOWERED

Tax Commissioner Without Authority to Interfere; Pleas in Abatement Filed

The state tax commissioner is without authority to interfere in the matter of increased assessment of town and city lots in Morton county. Tax Commissioner C. C. Converse has informed officials and citizens of the county after an investigation.

As a result of the tax squabble in that county hundreds of citizens have or are preparing to file pleas for abatement of alleged excessive taxes with the county commissioners. A special reassessment of property in Morton was ordered last year by former tax commissioner Wallace and the assessment as approved by the county board was boosted 30 per cent by the state board of equalization. The increased assessment originally was intended to apply only to the city of Mandan, but since the state board had power to act only with the county as a unit, the assessment of all city and town lots in Morton county were increased.

Many of the protestants in some of the smaller towns of the county assert that the increase made the assessed value of the lots beyond the actual value. As the county board opposed the action of the state board it is expected to grant many of the pleas in abatement filed.

ASKS DEALINGS
WITH U. S. BANK

Moscow, March 11.—L. Krassin, commissioner for foreign trade in Russia, is quoted in an interview published in a local newspaper that "an agreement had been prepared" with the Guaranty Trust company for banking relations with the new State Bank of Russia.

TALK MISQUOTED SAYS KITCHEN

Commissioner of Agriculture For Co-operative Endeavors

Any interpretation of his talk at Minot before the state dairymen's association to the effect that he is opposed to co-operative marketing is wholly unjustified, Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor J. A. Kitchen said today.

"I was the first president of a co-operative milling association in Sentinel Butte," said Mr. Kitchen. "I have always favored cooperation among farmers."

Mr. Kitchen said he was misquoted in some dispatches.

"I told the association that I believed that any effort upon the part of farmers or others to arbitrarily fix a price that is exorbitant would defeat itself," Mr. Kitchen said. He cited as an example that the price of one commodity had been increased by a California organization which had obtained a virtual monopoly to a point where he felt unable and unwilling to purchase the product. The price, he declared, had doubtless reduced the demand. Co-operative selling at a fair price to the producer and the consumer as well is held justified and desirable by Mr. Kitchen.

'PRAIRIE' SMOKE
PLACED ON SALE

Dr. M. R. Gilmore's Book Offered to The Public

"Prairie Smoke," the volume of lore of the prairies, which has been so highly praised in many newspapers of the state, is now offered for sale to the general public.

Because of the demand for the book of Dr. Melvin Randolph Gilmore, curator of the state historical society, a second edition has been printed. It is in cloth binding, a handsome volume, and is offered for sale at $1.50 per copy. Copies may be obtained through Dr. Gilmore or The Tribune.

The first edition was printed with paper binding. The book was distributed to libraries and educational institutions of the state. The stories of prairie lore Indian stories and other stories of North Dakota's historic past were highly praised and many educators asked for books to be used in school work. Many women's clubs also sought the books, as have many individuals.

There is a limited number of the second edition, 1,000 copies in all.

British Newspapers' Dispatches Say That Strike Becomes a General Revolt

BOMB BUILDING.

London, March 11.—(By the Associated Press).—The trades union hall at Benoni near Johannesburg, crowded with South African gold mine strikers, was bombed by an aviator today, says a Central News dispatch from Johannesburg. The majority of those present were killed and the buildings destroyed.

Johannesburg, So. Africa, March 11.—Casualties in the fighting between striking miners and police have reached 32 killed and 7 wounded by 8 o'clock tonight when the firing still continued. Nineteen of the slain were policemen.

By 11 o'clock, however, the streets had become absolutely deserted and the town uncannily quiet. The public was forbidden use of the streets.

The workers' hall is reported hit by an aeroplane bomb. Heaviest casualties in the district are believed to have been in the extreme eastern section of the Rand.

So far no news has been received from the western Rand. Jepp, a western suburb adjoining Johannesburg, was seized by strikers this afternoon.

Most of the men were armed and some carried bombs. They are credited with planning to hold up police in that area, so as to prevent them from reinforcing other points.

At two towns the strikers had apparently obtained the upper hand and numbers of dead and wounded were lying in the streets.

CALL IT REVOLUTION

The strike called by the miners leaders at Johannesburg is in reality a revolutionary movement, according to the Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Telegraph. The strike leaders have been eclipsed by threats against the state, he said. The Johannesburg correspondent of the same paper reported that numbers of Dutch farmers have joined the strikers who are mainly Dutch. The Times Johannesburg correspondent, on the other hand, ascribes the trouble to a wide-spread Bolshevist plot and says the Forrest commandery regards itself as a red guard.

U. S. 'SURPRISES'

TROOP PAYMENT

Reservations For American Rights Will Be Made In Agreement, However

Paris, March 11.—The demand by the United States for reimbursement to the extent of $241,000,000 for the expenses of its forces in the Rhineland, before any reparations are paid has provoked surprise and perplexity in French official circles. There is also, come pointed comment in some morning newspapers. The allied finance ministers met today to consider the situation developed by the American demands.

An official newspaper this afternoon said:

"Believing that the American memorandum established a new interpretation of the treaty of Versailles which document has not been ratified by the United States the allied finance ministers have decided to refer the memorandum to their governments. An agreement, however, will be reached and signed late today with reservations as to American rights."

Paris, March 11.—(By the Associated Press).—Best information in French and British official circles today was to the effect that the American claim for reimbursement of $241,000,000 for expenses of American forces in the Rhineland before any reparations are paid will be referred to the reparations commission without specific recommendation.

The allied finance ministers to whom the note was addressed discussed the note briefly at their morning session today and it was understood they would resume consideration of it this afternoon.

Outside officials expressed little belief that there was little chance that the American expenses could be paid out of the $1 billion gold marks paid by Germany as the distribution has been made.

STEEL PRICES
SEEN AS TRADE
REVIVAL TREND

New York, March 11.—The advance in prices of fabricated materials announced by a number of independent steel producers was regarded as the most significant event of the week in the stock exchange.

Sugar and several other commodities also hardened on the outlook in various lines of industry and commerce.

Trading in stocks and bonds, especially the latter, fell off. The market in money showed greater ease.

CHECKS MAILED TO FIRE DEPTS.

H. L. Reade, secretary of the North Dakota Firemen's Association, has mailed out to 229 city treasurers of the state checks for the 1920 insurance tax pro rata, the total amount being $45,731.20. Bismarck receives $1,924.88 and Mandan receives $775.97. Another payment will be due in June.

Republicans Looking to Gunder Olson to Take Step For Conference in Present Crisis

QUESTION I. V. A. AUTHORITY

Claim National Committeeman Endorsed by Two Factions Should Rally Republicans

Regular Republicans are looking with askance and suspicion on the I. V. A.—Republican-Democratic pow wowed for Jamestown by the fusion forces of the state. Burleigh Spalding of Fargo is to name the date and while it is called in the name of the Republican party, a considerable element of the Republicans of the state declare that Mr. Spalding is without mandate from the party to call any such convention.

"If it is an anti-McCumber convention of Republicans that is different," said an informed member of the Republican party today.

The only man who can regularly and consistently call the Republicans into conference to talk over nominees, and of course such action is merely informal and not binding under the primary laws, it is pointed out, is Gunder Olson, Republican National Committeeman.

Indorsed by Two Conventions
Mr. Olson, it is stated, was endorsed by two conventions of Republicans at Bismarck. The first convention was addressed by Senator McCumber when names were proposed for the National Republican convention. Later another convention was held at which Burleigh Spalding, Theodore Nelson and others were present and had much to do with the program outlined.

There was little or no open friction at either convention. The first confined its action solely to endorsing a national committeeman and selecting delegates to the national convention and fixing on presidential electors. In the case of the second convention there was a discussion of state issues, in connection with the selecting of nominees for national committeeman, delegates to the national convention and presidential electors.

Both for Olson

Despite the fact that the two conventions proceeded along different lines to express the same sentiments, both conventions endorsed Gunder Olson for national committeeman and endorsed some but not all the nominees named at the first convention. In order to have harmonious action at that time for as delegates to the national convention were concerned, several of the nominees for delegates to the national convention not endorsed by the second group of Republicans withdrew leaving the field so that both factions of the party were represented upon the delegation that went to Chicago and participated in the nomination of Warren G. Harding.

"DADDIES" GET IN LINE FOR BIG BANQUET

Most of the details for the Father and Son banquet to be given at the High School Gymnasium next Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Rotary club have been arranged. Chairman of the various committees named by Burt Finney, head of the Rotary club, will meet Monday noon at the Elks club to put the finishing touches to the festivities which will begin promptly at 6:30 P. M.

One "daddy" was called up last evening.

There was an eager voice at the other end of the telephone which chirped:

"Will you take a scrub to the banquet Tuesday evening?"

"You bet," was the answer snapped back, and the "scrub" and his escort will be there on the dot to eat the good things prepared and hear the speeches and songs.

The banquet is under the auspices of the Bismarck Rotary club, and J. J. MacLeod, director of boy welfare work, is directing many of the details in conjunction with a number of committees made up of Rotarians.

Judge A. M. Christianson, a real daddy himself, and who knows how to put things across in the toastmaster line will provide.

The program is as follows:

ASSOCIATION

Announcement Made of Guarantee of Funds to Carry on New Association

PLANNING ACTIVITIES

Steps were taken this morning at a meeting of a number of business men toward the organization of an Association of Commerce. Men interested in the future development of Bismarck have been circulating petitions for the last two weeks and sufficient signers have been secured to warrant the success of the new civic organization, it was stated. A full statement of the organization will be made later, it was said.

The most important progress made this morning was the securing of a guarantee fund to insure the financial success of the new organization. Every section of the city is represented on the petitions and the securing of additional names the sponsors of the organization declared will go forward vigorously.

In the near future all signers will be called together and given an opportunity to select their officers and decide upon a broad policy of civic development. In the meantime, the guarantors will select a secretary trained in civic activities. A special committee has been named to get in communication with commercial organizations in the large cities to submit names of men who would be interested in coming to Bismarck as the executive head of the new Association of Commerce.

Special emphasis, it was said will be laid upon the question of freight (Continued on Page 6)

MADALYNNE IS GIVEN A REST
DURING TRIAL

After Two Days on Stand Court is Adjourned For Day, While She's in Jail

Los Angeles, Calif., March 11.—Madalynne Obenchain, in her cell at the county jail today, rested from two successive days on the witness stand in her trial for the murder of J. Belmont Kennedy, her sweetheart.

No session of her trial was held, court having adjourned yesterday morning. When she returned to the stand the prosecution will resume its cross-examination.

It is expected the state will devote much time to cross-questioning the defendants on events immediately leading to the slaying of the young broker in her presence. Already she had been quizzed rigidly concerning her relations with the three men, Obenchain, Burch and Kennedy.

Answers Charges Made on Floor of the Senate During the Debate in a Letter

UNDERWOOD DEFENDS

Democratic Leader Answers Attack of Senator Robinson, Democrats, on the Treaty

Washington, Mar. 11.—Secretary of State Hughes in a letter today to Senator Underwood, Democratic leader and arms conference delegate, took occasion to characterize statements that the American delegates were induced to accept some plan for the four-power Pacific treaty cunningly contrived by others opposed to America's interests as "a very poor and erroneous construction of the work in connection with the conference."

The Secretary added that the amenities of international intercourse precluded the dealings be formal and there he confidential suggestions and conversations incident to the negotiations but he assured the senate that a full disclosure of everything said or done would reveal nothing derogatory to the part taken by the American delegates.

He asserted he would not consider acceptance of any position not entirely consistent with the traditional policy of the American government. The four-power pact, itself, he said, requires no comments adding that no ingenuity in argument or hostile criticism can add to it or make its engagements greater than "its unequivocal language set forth."

There are no secret notes or understandings, he asserted.

UNDERWOOD DEFENDS IT
Washington, March 11.—The four-power pact treaty is the "real treaty of peace" of the arms conference, Senator Underwood told the senate today. He said he would vote for ratification in the same spirit in which he supported the Versailles treaty and the league of nations.

The real issue, he said, was whether the United States was ready to back a "peace by mutual understanding" or desires to continue "the opportunity for war which has threatened us the last two decades."

ROBINSON ASSAILS PACT.
Washington, March 11.—Pressing their attack on the manner in which the four-power Pacific treaty was negotiated, the treaty's opponents declared on the senate floor yesterday that the American delegation to the arms conference not only concealed knowledge of the negotiations from the public but was responsible for the dissemination of misleading reports concerning them.

At the time when announcement of the treaty's conclusion was "imminent," Secretary Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas, told newspaper correspondents that he had no knowledge of any such project. As a result the Arkansas senator declared, the press not only was inaccurately informed but correspondents assigned to the conference suffered professionally because they placed reliance on what Mr. Hughes told them.

That the secretary of state had made such denials was characterized by Senator Lodge, Republican, Massachusetts, another member of the American delegation, as "inconceivable."

Mr. Lodge declared that the project for a Pacific concord had been discussed by him with Mr. Hughes before the conference began.

I. V. A. SLATE TO BE SELECTED AT JAMESTOWN

The fact that the recall election, with the combined vote of the independent Republicans and the independent Democrats, was successful by a margin of only about 4,000 votes, was cited as indicating something of the struggle that will prevail within the Republican primary this year, when a large block of the independent Democrats will remain within their own party, their vote being lost to the independent Republican ticket that will oppose a Nonpartisan ticket if one is put in the field. It was the consensus among the Republicans that a league ticket will be nominated by the Nonpartisan state convention.

"Under the Republican committee's instructions, the committee of 45 is urged to meet as early as possible to go over the ground thoroughly and make report of its work. The Republican committee would make its report back to the chairman of the Republican organization, Mr. Spaulding, who thereafter would call the Republican state convention for the purpose of taking such steps as may then be determined upon, with a view to carrying out the plan for coalition that may be proposed.

"It is contemplated at this time that the Republicans would proceed with the nomination of a state ticket in the primary the same as two years ago. The fight against the league would be made first in the Republican primary. Then, and in the event that the independent Republicans should not prevail in their primary, there would be a strong Democratic ticket, made up of men backing the independent cause, on whom the independents of the state would be able to concentrate. The importance of the coalition plan as related to the legislative situation was especially emphasized, many speakers urging that union of action in the legislative districts is imperative to the end that the league may not again control the assembly.

"Throughout the discussion of the plan for united action it was emphasized that it was feasible to extend the plan only to the state ticket, and that the senatorship which most of the speakers regarded as a vexing problem, should be eliminated. They felt that there was no opportunity for bringing about action on the part of the two major political parties on that question, and as that speaker said, he wasn't concerned with who held the North Dakota senatorship so long as the integrity of the state government was preserved and the people of the state given an opportunity to restore their standing and credit in the nation.

The Resolution.

"The resolution calling for the appointment of the Republican members of the joint committee of 45 provides that 'the 15 Republicans so named shall be, and are, authorized and empowered to consider with the said Democrats so named and the said I. V. A. members of the said committee of 45 so named, and devise ways and means of conducting the coming campaign in this state in a manner best suited to insure the election in November of state officials and members of the legislative assembly opposed to socialism.'

"That it is the thought of the Republican state committee that such joint committee of 45 shall organize and meet at the earliest practical moment for the consideration of matters respecting the campaign, and that as soon thereafter as may be, the Republican members of such committee of 45 shall report back to this, the Republican state committee, the results of their deliberations and joint action.

"That thereafter if not inconsistent with such report of action as taken by such joint committee of 45, the chairman of this Republican state central committee shall issue a call for a state Republican convention for the purpose of endorsing candidates to be voted for at the June primaries, such convention, to be held at the place designated by this Republican state committee representatives thereto upon a basis of apportionment fixed by this committee and the date of such convention to be determined by the chairman of this committee.

"The matter of the coalition was submitted by the Republican committee to a sub-committee comprised of J. H. Frazer, of Graton, L. L. Fritchell and George Dickinson last night and it was on that committee's recommendation that action was taken this morning. Two committee vacancies were filled, Frank Streeter of Linton and A. V. Swanson of McHenry county being named. Thirty-five out of 49 legislative districts were represented."

MADALYNNE, ON STAND, RELATES HER LOVE TALE

Mrs. Obenchain. When she concluded her tale, adjournment was taken until morning when cross examinations will be continued. The ordered courtroom was given thrill after thrill by the tale Mrs. Obenchain related of her love affair with Kennedy. She told of meeting Kennedy five years ago and of her subsequent acquaintance with him which was interrupted for a brief period in January, 1919, when she married Ralph Obenchain. But she was in communication with Kennedy again for a few weeks and finally secured a divorce from Obenchain.

She denied, however, the Kennedy refused to marry her, as claimed by the prosecution, asserting that Kennedy importuned her to consent to a secret marriage, which she refused to do.

Shortly before the tragedy, the witness asserted, Kennedy threatened to kill her if she would not marry him.

She admitted she asked Burch to come to Los Angeles last July; that she met him at the railroad station when he arrived and that she consulted him concerning her troubles with Kennedy.

When Burch left the train, she said, they had dinner together at a hotel. It was there that she told Burch she wanted his help with Kennedy and she told the jury that she had said at the time that she would not marry Kennedy without the consent of his people. She said Kennedy had urged a secret marriage but that she had declined and it was after she had explained this situation to Burch that she sought his aid.

Mrs. Obenchain testified that during the week after Burch's arrival they were together much of the time. She said they took numerous automobile rides. In response to direct questions she said they never went to Beverly Glen where the shooting took place and that she never told Burch where Beverly Glen was.

Mrs. Obenchain startled the courtroom by declaring that Kennedy came to her room in a local hotel in July and threatened to kill her if she did not marry him.

"He wanted me to marry him secretly and I objected," she testified. "Then he said: 'I've made up my mind that neither you nor I shall leave this room alive.' He drew a revolver, but I grabbed his wrist and told him I would call for a house detective. Then he quieted down but said: 'You will either go to Santa Ana and marry me or promise to go to Salt Lake with me, or you will never leave this room alive.'"

Referring frequently to a diary to refresh her memory as to dates, Mrs. Obenchain told of her arrival in Los Angeles on January 17, 1921, and of her frequent requests to Kennedy for the return of the letters she had written him. Always, she testified, he promised the letters but she never received them.

Finally Agreed to Wedding

On almost every occasion that she talked with him he would ask her to marry him secretly, but she refused, she said, insisting that she be taken to his parents and if there was to be any marriage it be made known to them. Always he gave the excuse, she said, that his mother was very nervous and because of her condition, he could not "always do the things his mind would tell him to do." He finally told her he would leave town "for a few days and think things over," she said.

At last, she said, she could not withstand his pleadings longer and agreed to go to San Francisco, where they were to be married. It was then, she said, that she thought of her

It combines, in addition to the advantages of other fine cars, all of the advantages of the Knight type sleeve-valve motor.

This Willys-Knight motor actually improves—grows more powerful with use—a quality which distinguishes it from all other motors.

It requires no adjustments. It is more flexible—and it always operates quietly.

It is more powerful than any other motor of equal size, and because of this, the Willys-Knight car consumes less gasoline than any other car of equal power and weight.

These important advantages added to the beauty, economy, road comfort and extraordinary long life of the Willys-Knight car explain the enthusiasm of more than 50,000 owners.

Touring reduced $150; now $1375. Roadster reduced $125; now $1350. Coupe reduced $320; now $1875. Sedan reduced $300; now $2095.

It is more powerful. The spark directly above the piston drives the power of every explosion directly down onto the piston.

It is economical for no power is wasted.

It is more flexible. Two sliding sleeves are driven by an eccentric shaft.

It is quiet and stays so. No cams. No springs. No complicated parts to wear and become noisy.

It requires no adjustments—for it is simple—free from complications.

STOCK FINANCE COMPANIES ARE CONSOLIDATED

Valley City and Bismarck Corporations Join Hands at Meeting Here

TO LOAN ON CATTLE

Plan is to Ship Into North Dakota High Grade Cattle For Farmers

Consolidation of two livestock companies under the name of the Farmers Livestock Company of Bismarck, with a capital stock of $750,000, is announced today, following a meeting of directors of the Cattlemen's Loan and Trust company, organized by Barnes county livestock breeders and business men, and the Farmers Livestock Company, of Bismarck.

Officers have been established in the Eltinge building, Bismarck, new officers of the consolidated company named, and plans are on foot to immediately develop the concern. Offices also will be maintained at Valley City.

The plan of the company is to ship in high-grade cattle from states where foundation herds of high-grade cattle are owned, enable farmers in North Dakota to finance the purchase of dairy cattle on long-time payments whereby the first payment of the balance would be paid out of the production of the animals. The plan would also apply to hogs.

Officers of the consolidated company follow:

President—R. W. Johnston, Valley City.

Vice-Presidents—Obert A. Olson, Bismarck; Alex McDonald, Bismarck; Thomas Hall, Bismarck; Dr. J. Van Houten, Valley City.

Secretary—C. B. Brown, Valley City.

Treasurer—C. J. Jensen, Valley City.

The consolidation was effected after it was learned that the Valley City men had organized a company on the same basis as the Bismarck company had been organized. Dr. Van Houten, named vice-president, is one of the leading Holstein breeders of the state, and formerly owned the grand champion Holstein herd; C. S. Brown, formerly with the Springdale Livestock company, dealers in short-horn cattle; and Alex McDonald is a well known breeder of fine cattle.

"We believe the future prosperity of North Dakota means more cows, more sweet clover, more hogs, more corn, more potatoes, more alfalfa, more poultry, means more fertility to the soil, more silos, better housing for the stock, more modern farm homes, better schools, a more pleasant rural life, and this means more young people on the farms, less farm mortgages and a surer income for the farmer," said President Johnston.

Need of Organization

"The need of this organization is most vital to the dairy farmer," he continued. "It will be one of his only means of securing finances to finance him over a long period of time thus giving him time so that the profits from the cows will pay for themselves, and the organization dealing in the security back of the farmer, the dairy cow, is recognized and treated as 'gilt edge' security by private investors, by the great banks allied with the packing interests and by the federal reserve system. Such loans are at the head of the 'prime paper' lists in the great financial centers of the east."

"Financing the cattle industry presents one of the most important and at the same time most profitable features of food production in the world today. Without adequate financing and careful development of the livestock business the people of this earth cannot be fed."

"No sounder or safer investment has ever been offered than cattle security. No legitimate profit ever more sure. No greater opportunity ever existed for the development of an intensely essential industry."

Taxpayers Ask For Abolition of Present Motor Vehicle Registration Department

ASKS TAXPAYERS CLUB

Lakota, N. D., March 11.—Nelson county taxpayers and public officials, in a meeting here to discuss tax problems and formulate plans for public economies, adopted resolutions to the effect:

That the state motor vehicle department be abolished and the licensing of motor vehicles be taken care of in the secretary of state's office as was formerly done; also that the motor vehicle law be amended so that the license moneys be returned to the different counties to be spent under the supervision of the county commissioners for road building and maintenance.

That all taxing officials practice the utmost economy in making levies.

Commending Nelson county officials on their administration and especially their handling of road projects.

That Section 176, in Article II, as amended by Article 20 of amendments to the constitution of the state, be amended so as to repeal the authority of the state legislature to exempt any and all classes of personal property from taxation, reciting that "a recent example of which is the exempting by the special legislative assembly of 1919, all bank stocks from taxation, thereby practically exempting banks from paying taxes. We recommend the full repeal of the law allowing classification of property for taxation, believing that all property should be assessed at its value and that all citizens should pay taxes in accordance with the value of their property such a system promoting a better citizenship and a more economical government."

Approving the movement to repeal the teachers' minimum wage law, holding the wage scale to be out of proportion to the ability of the tax-payers to pay and urging that the teaching profession do its share in the general readjustment of the times.

Urging that the next legislature enact legislation as will allow proposal and passage of an amendment to the constitution of the United States withdrawing the tax exemption on privilege of government, state, municipal and other bonds, such exemption constituting class subsidy and a detriment and a menace to borrowers and legitimate business and other occupations.

Proposing that a state taxpayers' association be formed.

Urging that the next legislature make a thorough survey of our state institutions and commissions with the end in view of abolishing all that are found unnecessary, and holding that number of state institutions exist that are in excess of requirements, and that should be abolished so as to lighten the tax burden and to increase the support and efficiency of the necessary ones. The same holds good with a number of commissions in the state.

JUDGE COFFEY TO HOLD COURT HERE MARCH 20

Will Dispose of Cases — Judge Nuessle Directs Order in Dunbar Case

Judge J. A. Coffey, of Jamestown, will come to Bismarck on March 20 to dispose of a number of court cases. Judge W. L. Nuessle and R. F. Tillotson returned last night from Carrington, where a court term was held. Judge Nuessle will go to New Rockford Monday to hold a term of court there.

On the return to Bismarck, Judge Nuessle stopped off in Jamestown to hear the return of an order issued to H. B. Dunbar, former state license inspector, to produce and state why he should not produce an automobile and liquor taken from whiskey runners captured in Jamestown last summer. Mr. Dunbar's attorneys, J. K. Murray, appeared and stated that the automobile was held in a Bismarck garage subject to orders of Attorney General Johnson and that Judge Lowe had issued an order for the destruction of the liquor. Judge Nuessle issued a further order, returnable in two weeks, directing Dunbar to appear personally.

WORK WAY THROUGH COLLEGE!

Half of All Students Doing It, U. S. Finds; Trip to Yale Shows How

By NEA Service.
New Haven, Conn., March 11.—Young man, do you want to go to college? Say Yale or Harvard or Columbia or Cornell or Northwestern or any of the big American colleges?
"Yes," you say, "that would be fine. But I haven't the money."
You don't need the money!
Make the money as you go along. Half the college students in America are earning their way through college, at least in part, government experts have found.
A trip to Yale shows you how they do it.

A questionnaire was sent out by the Bureau of Appointments of Yale to determine how many students were paying their own way by working.
President Angell of Yale says that half of the students of the college answered, and of these 52 per cent were working their way through.

Under Handicap.
One of them is Antonio Fresneda. He is a Cuban, and he started under a great handicap.

Fresneda is now in his junior year. He says it is a cinch for a young man to work his way through college.

"My freshman year was the hardest," says Fresneda. "The only thing I knew was manual labor."

"I waited on table for my board, took care of a furnace and shoveled snow from the sidewalks for my room. I sold Sunday papers, acted as agent for a laundry and at various other jobs, made enough to pay for books and clothes."

Vacations I worked as section hand on the railroad and carried bricks.

Stuck to It.

"But I stuck to it—while other fellows were becoming athletic heroes and taking part in social affairs."

"It is easier now. Tutoring and typewriting furnish me with enough to get by on."

"I pay $3 a week for my room. My board costs me $11 a week, tuition $8.50, books and papers $2, clothing $4, laundry $1.50, incidentals $3. This totals $33 and I find no difficulty in earning it."

"The experience has been valuable to me. It has taught me that if I believe in a thing, I can do it."

Yale is an exclusive school for the sons of rich men. It counts its self-supporting students by the hundreds.

However, exceptional qualities are demanded of the student who works his way through. The leisure time exempt from classes and studies, that more fortunate students spend in seeking pleasure, the self-supporting man must spend in earning his way.

Bureau Aids Students.

A bureau of appointments whose chief aim is the aid of needy students is maintained.

The bureau works in two ways: by granting beneficiary college scholarships and by acting as a clearing house for work.

Where the bureau, after careful investigation of the applicant, deems that a youth's character and secondary school record have been of sufficient promise, an allowance of $120 of the total tuition fee of $150 for the first term may be made. The allowance for the second term of the school year and for succeeding terms depends on the student's academic standing.

For the first two years these allowances are made with the understanding that no obligation of repayment is incurred.

After the first two years, non-interest bearing notes are taken for the remitted tuition, payment on which is due five years after graduation.

HUDSON, ESSEX GOING STRONG IN '22 SEASON

"Hudson and Essex are going strong into the spring season and will soon reach full speed production," stated Roy D. Chapin, president of the Hudson Motor Car Company.

"Our February shipments were 150 per cent more than last year and our March schedule calls for an increase of 200 per cent more cars than last March."

They are shipping at the rate of 200 to 250 Hudson and Essex cars a day, and it looks like the beginning of one of our very best seasons.

"Since all business fell off in the summer of 1920 there has been a great pent-up demand for motor cars that has never been fully released. Indications point to the fact that this spring will see the companies that offer unusual value doing a business of which they will be more than proud."

"As an indication of the volume of Hudson and Essex sales, we are just shipping to our San Francisco distributor, H. O. Harrison, a solid trainload of our product in 55 of the largest box cars made. Two hundred and seventy-five Hudson and Essex cars go in this shipment to this single western point, representing a retail value of almost half a million dollars."

MENNONITES OF MANITOBA GO TO MEXICO

Are Seeking Privilege of Following Their Own Religious Beliefs Without Interference

Grand Forks, N. D., aM. 11.—Some 125 Mennonites from Manitoba, the third trainload of approximately 20,000 people of that religion in Canada, all of whom are expected to desert that country for Mexico, passed through Grand Forks, marking the early stages of what is expected to be one of the largest organized migrations of any people in history.

Coming from Canada, where their ancestors settled as early as 1786, these people seek in Mexico the privilege of following their own religious beliefs without interference, a privilege they claim to be unable longer to enjoy in Canada.

Abraham Wolf, who was born just north of the Canadian border 45 years ago and who for years has operated a farm and later a drug and general store there, headed the special trainload passing through here.

Children Fined.
Mr. Wolf said that for years the Mennonites were allowed to have their own schools and disregard the compulsory attendance of the Canadian schools. During the war, he said, efforts were made by the government to force their children to follow the Canadian teachings and penalties were provided for all who disobeyed. He said that fines were imposed for as much as $30 for each child who failed to attend, the practice being followed quite vigorously until it was learned that the Mennonites were arranging to leave the country.

The Mennonites follow the teachings of Menno Simons, who founded the sect in Holland in the early part of the 16th century, and whose book is the basis of their conduct. This religion does not permit of the taking of human life even in war, and the adherence to such belief has caused these people to move from one country to another to avoid laws that may conflict with their preferred methods of living.

Their Own Schools.
It is mainly through forming settlements by themselves, where they have their own churches and schools, that the Mennonites strive to continue their strict following of these beliefs. Mr. Wolf said that compulsory school laws have caused his people to move from Holland to Germany, from Germany to Russia, later from Russia to the United States and Canada, and now from Canada to Mexico, where they have been promised absolute freedom in following their course. He said they have schools of their own which children attend until they are about 14 years of age and where they learn all that is considered necessary for them to know to enjoy life as they see it. The leaders, he explained, fear that if their children attend the public schools they would ultimately come to disregard the belief that war is wrong.

Several months ago a delegation of Mennonites visited Mexico and several South American countries. It was only in Mexico that they were promised the freedom they desired. As a result of conferences with Mexican officials, including President Alvaro Obregon, an option was taken for a tract of about 100,000 acres of farming land in the states of Chihuahua and Durango, at $3.25 per acre.

Bishop Goes Later.

The first trainload left Manitoba by way of a more eastern route a week ago last Monday, arriving in Mexico yesterday. The second special train carrying 150 people passed through Grand Forks last Thursday night, and a fourth train is expected to pass through here next Saturday. Mr. Wolf said:

These people are members of the Rhineland Church, which is headed by Bishop John Friesen of Winkler, Man. The bishop is at present negotiating a deal, which is expected to be closed

March 20, for the sale of a number of more farms in the district just north of the border, where these people have been residing. While Bishop Friesen is not expected to go to Mexico until next fall a number of other families intend to leave when their places have been sold. Mr. Wolf expects that many thousand Canadian Mennonites will be in Mexico by next fall and winter, and that all of the 20,000 now in Canada will leave as soon as their affairs can be arranged.

El Paso, Texas, March 11.—Ninety thousand Mennonites from Russia may join their fellow worshippers from Canada, who have started for their promised lands in Bustillos, Chihuahua. George Hiebert of Long Beach, Cal., announced here today that he was representing Russian Mennonites who also wanted to locate in Mexico and had made arrangements to purchase land for them in Chihuahua.

N. P. HAS ONLY ONE FATALITY IN FIVE YEARS

The Northern Pacific has completed another year without being chargeable for the death of a passenger, it was announced by the company today.

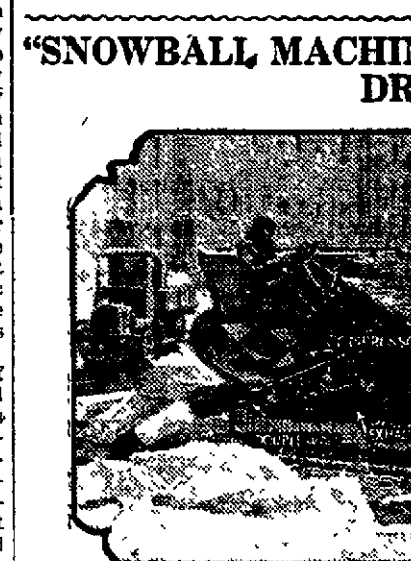

"During the last five years, the Northern Pacific has had only one passenger fatality," said A. B. Smith, Passenger Traffic Manager. "This was in 1918 when a passenger stepped from the end of the coach, after the train had been cut at a terminal to do some switching."

"We are naturally very proud of the almost perfect record of our lines. Considering the extent of our business, the character of operation and climatic conditions, our safety record is one that few railroads can equal."

"Railroad transportation today is such an exact science that a passenger's risk of being killed on a railroad train is so remote as to be practically negligible. Julius Kruttschnitt says that a passenger's risk of being killed on a train in the United States was one in 182,000,000 miles run in 1900. In 1910, his risk was one in 106,000,000 miles run—numbers hard to conceive. A train running 60 miles an hour, and covering 325,000 miles in a year, would require 373 years to run 196,000,000 miles."

RUSSIAN TRADE TO BE BOOSTED BY THE SWEDES

Swedish Bankers To Meet Efforts of U. S. Corporations To Open Trade With Russia

Stockholm, March 11.—Leading Swedish banks are understood to be attempting to form a pool with a capital stock of $38,000,000 to promote Swedish trade with Russia by the purchase of Russian natural products.

Stockholm's leading conservative daily the Nya Dagbladet Allehanda, asserts that there is no doubt that the project is under way and that the Swedish financiers seriously contemplate establishing a certain bank in Moscow through which trade with Russia can be carried on for cash payments in gold and silver.

It is believed here that the Swedish bankers intended in this way to meet the efforts of American corporations to open trade with Russia.

It is understood that, under this Swedish plan, Russian products are to be delivered to large central warehouses in Russia whose security will be guaranteed by the Russian government. Warehouse certificates are to be negotiable in the proposed central bank and will be available as security for bank credits or as means of payment for merchandise. This method of procedure has been thoroughly approved by experts in Russian trade.

The primary problem to be solved at the present time is how to stimulate Russian production, chiefly agricultural. It is well known that the Russian peasants have long since lost all interest in Russian paper rubles, and have refused to accept them in payment for their products. Thus the only way of purchasing agricultural longed to be a lawyer like father," Mrs. Buell says. "I remember going to court with him and crouching beneath a chair in terror when the argument grew hot."

Both Are Mothers.
The sisters' leaning toward politics doesn't shut them off from the joys of domesticity. Both are model housewives and enjoy home life.

And each sister is the mother of a son who served overseas in the war. The two boys now are attending the Boston School of Technology. They've written letters of congratulation to their mothers.

As city prosecutor Mrs. Buell created a stir here when she sought full enforcement of the Fourth of July ordinance.

The ordinance prohibits firecrackers. Seven violators, including the mayor's brother, were arrested.

Couldn't "Fire" Her
Mrs. Buell opened a prosecution. The mayor said he'd dismiss her if she didn't drop it. She didn't.

Then the city council passed a resolution dismissing her and repealing the offending ordinance.

But this dismissal was found incorrect legally and Mrs. Buell was retained. The Fourth of July violators were found guilty and fined.

Throughout their careers the lives of the two sisters have been closely linked. Together they were pioneer advocates of woman suffrage.

And now they hope to sit together in the House at Washington!

"From the time I was a tiny girl I and other products in Russia at present is by barter."

The peasants will accept such necessities as matches, tobacco, textiles and agricultural implements for their farm products and such things they cannot pay with Russian paper rubles. It is believed here that such a project, if carried out, would surely die. As their peculiar superstitions of the fellaheen (peasants) and has appointed a committee of district governors to advise it as to the best method of attaining that purpose.

After four years of occupation, the authorities are beginning to realize that superstition plays an important role in keeping the peasants in ignorance.

Some of the native beliefs are very interesting. One government official discovered that he had transgressed a tradition the other day when he stepped over a baby's coat as he crossed a village street.

His action was noticed by a group of women who halted him and told him he would have to retrace his steps or the baby would surely die. As their attitude was menacing, he did so to save himself from attack.

The same official on another occasion was invited to take lunch with the Moukhar (head) of a village. As he entered the guest chamber, he stumbled and he fell headlong on the floor. The host told him that his falling was sure to bring bad luck to the village unless he saw fit to forgo the lunch.

It is a common practice for girls to visit Wilkes (prophets' tombs) and say these places of their garments, believing that by so doing they are sure to get married soon. Sometimes they go without food or drink for seven days for the same purpose.

Many women who have no children try to avoid divorce by taking baths and walk over children's graves in order to have some of their own. Other to be blessed with children they go to mosques walk seven times around the building and then make an offering in the gateway.

These are a few of the odd customs which are commonly practiced by the fellaheen and which the government is anxious to destroy.

If strengthened out an ounce of spider's web would extend 350 miles.

OUR GOVERNMENT BEING ATTACKED BY THE RABBLE

Dr. Chas. F. Thwing Tells Students What Principles Our Colleges Need To Stand For

Washington, March 11.—Our democratic republican government is attacked by the rabble. Dr. Charles F. Thwing, retiring president of Western University, Cleveland, O., addressing graduates of the institution at the University Club, declared here "The need of what the college stands for was never greater than today," he asserted.

"The defiance of the Prohibition Amendment, whether one believes in the amendment or not, is a menace to good order," said Dr. Thwing. "Meanwhile the antagonism between capital and labor is violent, and promises to become more violent."

Dr. Thwing said that under these conditions the college should come in with the following principles:

(1) No class should seek to legislate or execute for the whole community. The labor policy of Australia should not be adopted in America.

(2) Liberty should prevail. Brotherhood will follow equality and freedom.

(3) All the people should be educated to their capacity. Americanism should represent the native as well as the foreigner.

The first method for achieving these principles, the speaker continued, is thinking, which is to learning what the ship's officer is to the chart room. College education should be devoted to thinking upon a variety of themes. The study of nature, of mathematics, of man in his social, economic, psychological and religious aspects, represent forces making for wisdom and strength in "dealing with the tumultuous social and political conditions."

Dr. Thwing stressed the importance of making thinkers by personal contact, declaring that "in giving a proper place to the college in the community, the great teacher is of primary value."

Pretty Hard To Beat Record of Northern Pacific

Ninety-four per cent of Northern Pacific passenger trains made their schedule time in 1921, according to figures made public today by A. B. Smith, Passenger Traffic Manager.

Concerning climatic and other conditions affecting the operation of transcontinental trains through the northwest, the Northern Pacific's record is regarded as exceptional by railroad executives throughout the country.

In 1921, the Northern Pacific handled 32,761 passenger trains on its lines.

Newspapermen To Have Sanitarium

Mexico City, March 11.—Popular subscriptions are being received here for the erection of a sanitarium for newspapermen and several thousand pesos have already been collected. Food Specialist Begins Nutrition Classes and Work

Miss Hazel Spencer, food specialist of the Fargo Agricultural College, held the class for Bismarck children at the rest room in the Masonic temple, this morning. Miss Spencer weighed and measured 14 children at the opening of the class. Two-thirds of the class were found to be underweight.

Miss Spencer gave them a lesson on building foods and told them a story of milk. She asked them to keep weekly food records which they are to bring with them to the weekly meetings. On these records Miss Spencer will make recommendations as to change in food habits.

The groups will be weighed weekly and food or health lessons will be given every two weeks. The Child's Welfare committee of the Community Council are in charge of the work.

Elaborate Plans For Celebration of St. Patrick's Day

For the first time in the history of Ireland, St. Patrick's day will be celebrated, this year, by a free people under a republic form of government. For years the Irish people have fought for their freedom, and the attaining of that end, which has been so recently accomplished, will be celebrated on the 17th day of March.

Not only will people celebrate in Ireland, but they will celebrate, also, in the United States, and the biggest celebration will be in Bismarck, at the McKenzies hotel. For a good many years, on the 17th of March, the management of the McKenzies has staged an annual St. Patrick's day dinner dance party, and this year there will be a bigger party than ever. The novel menu, with its Irish terms and phrases, which Mr. Patterson always gets up, has already been printed, and it is said to be the best ever produced. The party will be given, as heretofore, in the main dining room of the McKenzies, and bids fair to be an all-night affair. There will be Shamrocks, Irish Pipes, Killarney Hats and other novelties for everybody.

High School to Give Recitals

Students of the Bismarck high school are taking an active interest in the musical contest which will be held in Jamestown, March 24. It is planned to send seven representatives from the local high school to Jamestown to take part.

Fourteen names have been signed up for the elimination contest which will be held on Monday evening. There will be no audience for this contest. Mrs. Grambs, Mrs. LaRose and Mr. Swanson will be the judges.

A week from Monday a recital will be held to help raise funds to send the seven Bismarck people to Jamestown. A pleasing program has been arranged for this recital, consisting of outside talent as well as high school numbers.

Special Meeting of Order Well Attended

About 80 members of the Modern Brotherhood of America lodge attended the special meeting held at the American Legion hall last evening. The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock and was followed by addresses given by the visiting officers and members of the local chapter.

A banquet was served following the meeting. The meeting was open to all members and invited friends.

CAPIES FOR SUMMER

BY MARIAN HALE

New York, March 11.—Summer sports dresses have taken a violent fancy to clever little capes. The dress which Regina Quian wears under this fall, gathered-at-the-neck cape, is quite straight of line and is fashioned of sportswear, a lightweight fabric which is being used much for smart outdoor togs.

Of vivid orange it is inset with white at the shoulders of both cape neapolls yesterday and will resume his studies at the University of Minnesota.

and dress. The trend of sports clothing is naturally toward simplicity, thus this arrangement of material is the only trimming used for the outfit.

The skirt is quite short, as only sports skirts dare be. There is a distinct difference between the length of sport clothes and those designed for ordinary town wear. The former may remain quite short, but the skirts of afternoon and evening dresses as well as tailored suits are longer.

CARMICHAEL OUT OF CAMPAIGN

Ernest Irl Carmichael, of Burnstad, who recently announced his candidacy for the nomination for congressman from the Second district, has withdrawn from the race. In announcing his withdrawal Mr. Carmichael added: "that I came out for an honest aim and am withdrawing not for political purposes or aid to any other candidate, but leave the race the same as I entered it earlier in the year. Congressman Young merits re-election on the good effort for the people of his district and North Dakota during his past term of office."

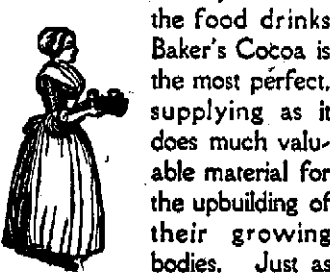

The letter of Prof. Carmichael, announcing withdrawal, was dated Emerson, Washington, March 6.

There will be a big U. C. T. meeting tonight. Election of officers, also big initiation, also a feed, at 6 o'clock. All U. C. T.'s are asked to come out. Visiting U. C. T.'s are cordially invited. J. L. George, Secretary.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

A NATIONAL INSTITUTION

The Father and Son Banquet has become almost a national institution. Bismarck will hold its second annual banquet for the boys and their fathers next Tuesday evening at the High School Gymnasium and the event is worthy of the heartiest support of the community.

This event will afford a chance for rare fellowship and will serve to bring the fathers and sons into a closer bond of mutual understanding. The inspiration of such a gathering is bound to bear fruit in making better sons and fathers.

At these banquets is emphasized the necessity for high ideals in private and public life. The boys and fathers derive a collective good from the close association afforded.

These annual affairs serve to accentuate the responsibilities of parentage and especially the duties of a father to a son. The sons derive benefits also by having driven home to them the obedience they owe their parents.

Fathers and sons get together too seldom. They play and study together hardly enough to get acquainted as they should. These banquets point out the value of such close comradeship. Only the ready response of the fathers can make them a success. When the boys seek you out with an invitation give them the hearty response they deserve.

A night out with your boy at such a banquet will be a rich experience.

The price of rattlesnakes, diamonds and elephants is down; but none of them make very good eating.

JUVENILE FORGER

A juvenile forger is held by the Boston police. Although only 12 years old, his talent for forging penmanship is so remarkable that he is compared to Jim the Penman.

Juvenile court should sentence this lad to a trip to the federal penitentiary at Atlanta for a talk with the white-haired master forgers. What the lad would hear from them about crime not paying would do him more good than any other sentence the court might impose.

A defect of the law is that it doesn't unveil the inevitable future to the budding gangster. The average gun-toter could be cured by being compelled to witness an execution.

South Africans have a drink that makes them walk backward. A man can swear he started home but went the other way.

POWER OF INTEREST

In 1897 George Jones borrowed $100 from Henry R. Stuart. He agreed to pay 10 per cent interest a month.

Stuart sues for the principal of the note, along with accrued interest. He gets a judgment in court at San Jose, California.

There isn't enough money in the world to pay it.

It's an important incident though, illustrating the power of compound interest to bring wealth to the thrifty.

Compound interest is the only universal road to financial independence.

Some people have to brag about their ancestors because they have no descendants to speak of.

ENOUGH LAWYERS SAYS TAFT

The country has enough lawyers, doesn't need any more, says Chief Justice Taft.

Isn't that true of every other line of work?

Being overcrowded is an excellent stimulant for any profession or trade. Competition—not enough to completely satisfy the wants of all—keeps every one up on his toes.

Without overcrowding, no spectacular individual success. All men are lazy except when they have competition. Fortunately, most of us have it—more than was can handle.

The French say prices are injuring art. Inspiration, we understand, is up several francs a quart.

BOBBED HAIR

In Chicago an average of 2500 women a day are getting their hair bobbed.

Is bobbed hair coming as a permanent institution?

It is only a few generations since all men wore their hair long. No doubt, the men who pioneered the short-hair fad were ridiculed.

A few years from now, the woman without bob-bed hair may be a curiosity. Once cut, they generally like it. That is the first requisition for making a fad into an established custom.

Jury, who awarded a man 50 cents for two broken floating ribs, evidently consulted current quotations of spareribs.

WAREHOUSES

Says the Wall Street Journal: "Taking into consideration the higher prices of raw materials, inventories of most companies are far below what they were in pre-war years."

This means that stocks of goods in warehouses are low—below normal.

Such a condition always is the tail-end of hard times. When bins are hungry, buying on a big scale is not far off.

We wouldn't be surprised if some neighbors bought records and borrowed our phonographs to play them.

Doctors say a Detroit man who drank mercury by mistake will be up when the weather gets warmer.

The worst thing about garden time is the man who says, "My wife planted French fried potatoes."

College girls who deny they pine for kisses now have some more explaining to do.

Quite a few married men carry their religion in their wife's name.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

COMPLETE DATA

The full report of the international joint commission recommending the development of the St. Lawrence deep waterway, which was transmitted to congress last month with President Harding's indorsement, has now been printed for general distribution. It contains adequate summaries of the arguments for and against the project, full data on which the commission's recommendation rests, maps and drawings of the proposed improvement and an outline of its historic background.

No big public project ever undertaken in America has had behind it as thorough a study, as exhaustive a consideration of its every angle and as complete a survey of its possible utility as this. Hearings were held by the commission in many cities, American and Canadian, along and near the boundary. Both as a navigation and a power proposal it was submitted to every conceivable theoretical test. It is now heartily indorsed as an economic and engineering enterprise. The plan is before congress and before the parliament at Ottawa.

Publication of this report should hasten the decision of men and of organizations which have thus far either ignored the accumulation of evidence supporting the seaway or have made it a pretense for inaction that the joint commission had not yet reported. It is fair enough to assume henceforth that unless a midwest congressman, for instance, is for the waterway he is against it. There is no neutral middle ground. No one can plead lack of information.

There is scarcely a doubt that congress will act favorably on the waterway. Midwestern sentiment cannot be mistaken. Members of congress, particularly those representing districts touching the Great Lakes, cannot afford to be indifferent to an improvement that will bring the sea to the gate of every city with a harbor along this chain of inland waterways.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

DIFFERENT TRIBES

A good deal of the mystery and horror with which these Hollywood "tragedies" are enveloped would be dissipated if the difference between two points of view could be eliminated. Despite the assurance from stage people that their life off the boards is just like those of farmers and coachmen and the four hundred, it isn't. There is a difference in language, the customs, in short, the point of view. Things that horrify the haberdasher and his wife are innocent and customary in the rank and file of the stage, if not in its upper rank.

To take a few simple examples. A kiss may be an awful thing to a high school girl, and yet a chorus girl, just as good, carelessly kisses a good-night to a man she scarcely knows. Where Melinda Simpson signs, "With mama's regards and mine," a cabaret singer will express precisely the same sentiment with "Love, old top," and know that it will be taken in the same way. It is discovered that a framed photograph of Winifred Kingston was found in the bungalow of William D. Taylor, and Miss Kingston is obliged to take the trouble of denying that she and Taylor were engaged. If he were a business man and she the ward of his aunt's cousin, that framed photograph might form presumptive evidence that they were engaged. But in the circles in which they moved the photograph was doubtless one of a great many she gave away, and the framing was a mere compliment.

The trouble is simply that the two kinds of life don't speak each other's language, even if representatives of both attend the same church.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

MANDAN NEWS

John Wynn Was Well Known Former Mandan Resident

John Wynn, who died in St. Paul yesterday and who was well known in Mandan, was born at Vermont, September 8, 1864.

He came west as a young man and entered the service of the Northern Pacific as a fireman on the Yellowstone division with headquarters at Mandan. He rose rapidly in the service and was promoted to engineer and for twenty years ran out of Mandan. He was then promoted to road foreman and then to trainmaster of the Yellowstone division with headquarters at Glendive.

It was a little over four years ago that he became assistant to the general manager and moved to St. Paul, where he made his home at the Boardman hotel.

Mr. Wynn was a progressive citizen and believed in the future of this city and this section. He is a half owner with Frank Hudson in the Elks building which houses not only Elks hall but the Messmer billiard hall and the Victory Club company. He also owned the property occupied by the Regan billiard hall and the property on East Main street occupied by Ole Paulson.

He had never married and is survived by two sisters, an aunt and a cousin who is at Notre Dame university.

He was a member of Mandan Lodge No. 1256 B. P. O. Elks which he joined February 22, 1918, at the time of the dedication of the new home of the lodge which he had so great a part in making possible. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, having retained his membership following his promotions.

News of his death comes as a complete surprise to Mandan friends. Francis McDonald, engineer of Mandan, an intimate friend of Mr. Wynn, left last evening for St. Paul, and will assist with the funeral arrangements.

Mandan Club Elects Officers

The Mandan Commercial club held their annual meeting on Thursday night in the Lewis and Clark hotel dining room.

Following the banquet and talks, election of officers were held. Nominations made as per the by-laws by the retiring directors were voted upon and the following elected for the coming year in the various classifications: Wholesalers, L. F. Lyman; bankers, A. H. Peterson; city commission, C. E. Edquist; R. R. employees, F. W. McKendry; professional, E. R. Griffin; hotels, J. A. Harding.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

ANOTHER INITIATED LAW

Fort Yates, N. D. Mar. 8, 1922.
Editor The Tribune,
Bismarck, N. D.

The farmers and stockmen of the western part of North Dakota are fighting for their lives and their livestock. Old King Winter has put over a sustained barrage of snow, ice and cold winds, that has taken a heavy toll of the enemy. He has succeeded to such an alarming extent that even the War Finance Corporation has been called upon to provide ammunition in the shape of hay and other feed. Many carloads have been shipped into the war-torn country and it is believed by those who have been in touch with the generals that the tide of battle has turned and that Old King Winter is about to retreat. All that is needed now is a good Chinook wind and the battle will be won. However, there will still be need for much work as the stock will then be in such a weakened condition that they will continue to fall victims of their circumstances. All of which constrains one to suggest that a law should be enacted whereby it will be a misdemeanor punishable by fines or confiscation of personal property for any farmer or stockman who fails to provide enough feed for his stock to live through the winter on. Sufficient shelter should also be provided, but it probably could not be

NIGHT—A SONNET

(Florence Bomer.)

How dignified is the approach of Night!
Like billows on an ever changing sea,
The shadows fall and raise unceasingly
Till suddenly from out his distant height
The sun sinks down completely from our sight,
And leaves the world and all it has to me;
Then, gleaming stars send forth their tiny light,
To guide us, and protect us where we be.

Thus Night, the lovely queen of Darkness comes,
To greet us at the closing of the day,
Not at the distant call of battle drums,
But at the call of Peace she wends her way;
Not as the mighty Ocean beats and thrums,
But as the sun sends down his golden ray.

enforced by law. The stockman of a farmer would not suffer financial loss through such a law as feed will keep from year to year when properly put up.

From a humane standpoint alone this law would be worthy. Consider the untold suffering imposed on dam animals through the lax methods employed by their masters. When one visualizes a group of noble horses huddled in a corner of a pasture with their hoofs worn off by constant pawing in the snow and their mouths sore from crunching ice, slowly freezing and starving to death, while their eyes are fixed on the distant light of a warm farm house, he is compelled to take the conclusion that something ought to be done toward preventing such another condition.

New York's night life, New Orleans in gay carnival season, and the gaming halls of Monte Carlo mingle in Dorothy Dalton's latest Paramount picture, "A Romantic Adventure," which will be given its first local showing next Monday and Tuesday at the Capitol theater. ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

Onward went the little procession, many first, then Nick, and last of all the goat carrying the basket with the chocolate cake.

At last they came to the first of the Seven Mountains, but right at the foot of it a toll-gate closed the road. The Twins didn't know what a toll-gate was, all they saw was a great wooden beam directly in their path, and they stopped to consider how they could get round it or over it or under it. "I know a way," said the goat. "If you take the basket and set it on the other side I'll show you how."

All this time no one was in sight. A queer little house with a roof like a hair brush squatted at the side of the road, but no one came out of it to help them. There was nothing to do but to take the goat's advice.

Nick took the basket and set it carefully on the other side of the gate. "Now watch me," said the goat. "Do just as I do. After we're over we can pick up the basket and climb the mountain. We ought to get to the top before sunset. We'll be safe there, for I understand that from the top you can see the world like a map. I'm anxious to see where we are going, particularly the Princess Thelma in her Castle of Mirrors. In intend to marry her."

"You!" cried Nancy and Nick. "Ahem! Well, perhaps," answered the goat, who had forgotten that he was speaking aloud. "But I'll never marry anybody and neither will you if we stand here at this stupid place all day. Watch out, everybody! Clear the track!"

The goat ran back a few steps, then turning, he lowered his head and gave a spring. It was a wonderful leap, and he landed almost half way up the mountain. But lo and behold! The mountain, you know, my dears, was rubber and the goat bounced back. For miles and miles he went through the air like a black and white comet. Finally the Twins lost sight of him, but he was still going.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

Today's word is DIRIGIBLE.
It's pronounced —di-rij-i-bul with accent on the second syllable.
It means—capable of being steered or led.
It comes from—Latin "dirigere," to steer.
It's used like this—"The Poma, recently destroyed, was America's great dirigible balloon."

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.—Matthew 4:4

It is generally the idle who complain that they cannot find time to do that which they fancy they wish. In truth, people can generally find time to do what they choose to do; it is not really the time but the will that is wanting. The advantage of leisure is mainly that we have the power of choosing our own work; not certainly that it confers any privilege of idleness.—St. John Lubbock

SEX DETECTOR IS BIG FAKE SAYS REPORT

Moneys Paid to State as Taxes Have Increased in N. D. $7,000,000 Since 1914

Was Supposed to Unfailingly Indicate The Sex and Fertility of Eggs

STEEN MAKES UP CHART IS WIDELY ADVERTISED

Washington, March 11.—Beware of the sex detector, says the Department of Agriculture. It is widely advertised as one of the greatest "marvels" of the age, but there is nothing to it, the department asserts in a formal statement.

According to its manufacturers and publicity agents the detector is a small instrument that will unfailingly indicate the sex and fertility of eggs, the department says, adding that poultry raisers were promised phenomenal fates and as high a percentage of females as they might desire by its use.

"But this was only part of what might be expected of this simple but potent little device," declares the department in a recent circular. "It was said to tell the sex of oysters, butterflies, caterpillars, beetles, worms, and even the sex of the animal from which were obtained such products as leather and cheese, although there would seem to be little difficulty in the case of dairy products."

"Even the criminologist was offered assistance, for it was claimed that the untelling little detector would tell the sex of the person who shed the blood found on clothing or elsewhere. One manufacturer said that by attaching a wire to his apparatus and running it through a keyhole he could determine the sex of any person holding the loose end of the wire."

At the suggestion of the Post Office Department the Bureau of Chemistry of the Agriculture Department made tests of several such instruments—with the result that all the manufacturers have now gone out of business.

"One of the detectors," continues the report, "was an elongated, tubular, plunger-shaped device made of nickel-plated iron and filled with a greenish mixture of calcium carbonate and an aluminum salt, and suspended by a fine thread."

When held an inch above an egg containing a male germ the stuffed tube was said to swing back and forth like the pendulum of a clock; but if the egg were of the opposite sex, the bob would describe little circles, and in the case of an infertile egg there would be no motion at all.

"Another device consisted of a small filled wooden ball having a cavity filled with red lead and covered by a small iron disk, the whole suspended by a cord. The telltale motions were claimed to be the reverse of those that indicated male and female with the other instrument."

Try as the Agricultural Department experts would, they could not get the "miracles" to work. Tests on eggs and other things by a number of persons showed that all the instruments were useless. No two persons got the same results with the same eggs, and eggs known to be infertile gave positive indications that they would hatch both pullets and cockerels.

Primitive Races Are Dying Out

Honolulu, T. H., March 11.—(By Mail.)—Study of the dying races of the Pacific will be begun immediately because "some of the peoples, in their primitive forms, are dying out and we must get them before the last vestiges of their racial characteristics are submerged by the mingling of races," Dr. H. E. Gregory, director of the Bishop Museum here, announced today on his return from a visit to Washington as uno. oial geographical advisor to the limitations of armaments delegates.

The investigation of the primitive races will be coupled with study of geographical and geographical phenomena of the ocean, he said.

"But we must go after the people first; before they disappear. The rocks will last indefinitely as far as our purposes are concerned, so that part of the work can wait," he declared.

Kilt, in its modern form, can be traced back to 1828.

Strike Interferes With Lawn Tennis

London, March 11. — England's thousands of lawn tennis players are disturbed by a strike which has been in progress for three weeks, among racket stringers and others concerned in the making of rackets. The workers have declined to accept a reduction in wages suggested by employers in view of the lower cost of living. Delivery to retailers, which usually begins early in March, will be delayed, it is said, and repairs are at present impossible.

Stringing rackets is said to be a particularly highly skilled work and the number of men capable of doing it is limited. The majority of stringers make from six to eight pounds weekly on piecework.

Modern silk hat was first worn in England about 1840.

HOW MUCH CAN WE BE TAXED BY GOVERNMENT

Members of Chicago Board of Trade Bring Suit Which Might Settle This Question

Washington, March 11.—The constitutional extent of the taxing power of the government is at issue in the supreme court in an attack brought by eight members of the Chicago Board of Trade upon the Future Trading Act. The case, with three others involving the Child Labor law, presents from the viewpoint of the government, one of the most vital constitutional questions to reach the court in recent years.

The government won the Future Trading case in the United States district court at Chicago before Judge Landis, but lost in the Child Labor cases in the lower federal courts in North Carolina. The two acts, brought before the court, on somewhat different facts, substantially similar contentions. Opponents challenged the right of the federal government, in the exercise of its taxing power, to accomplish by what they term "subterfuge" regulatory control of matters within the police jurisdiction of the states. The government contended that the Future Trading Act imposed an excise tax which Congress, under the constitution, is authorized to lay and collect, not only to pay the debts and provide for the common defense, but also for the "general welfare of the United States."

Contracts for the "future" delivery of grain amounts in some years, the government in the arguments before the supreme court asserted, to more than 20,000,000 bushels, or three times the quantity of grain produced in all countries although the amount of grain actually changing hands in Chicago, where five-sixths of the "future" trading is done, being a small fraction of one per cent of the total "future" transactions in Chicago in 1919 amount was stated, to 51 times the amount of wheat produced in the United States.

Literary Digest For March 11, Is Special British Empire No.

The Literary Digest dated March 11 will be a Special British Empire number and will be devoted to the great transformation which the British empire is experiencing and which, some people in this country do not realize, its entire structure has undergone a tremendous change in the last few years, by which the commonwealths, dominions and colonies are almost taking the position of free and independent governments. This change and the forces which seem to be pushing even further, will be fully explored and described so that every reader will understand this great silent shift of power that is remaking one of the greatest empires in the world's history.

Along with this subject the Digest will have articles telling the present strength of the empire in navy, army, finance, manufacturing, and everything that goes to make up the material side of civilization and on the human side of the British character, what Great Britain has done for the civilization of the world in every line of literary, artistic, and intellectual work.

A very important point that comes up sharply in connection with all this is what America's attitude should be toward Britain; whether we should adopt a warm friendly policy of co-operation or should view the British as our chief rivals and try to block their policy at every turn. This is a tremendously important subject for this country and is treated fully and frankly.

One of the most important articles in the number will give an encyclopedic treatment of everything about Canada. This great dominion, extending clear across our northern border, our greatest neighbor, but very few Americans have any adequate idea of her wealth and power, the character of her population, what she has done and can do. The article in the Digest will supply this much needed information.

FINLAYSON IN GOOD SHOWING

Ellis Finlayson, Bismarck, who met Jack Sampson, of Walpole, one of the best in the Northwest at Wahpeton, made a good showing last night.

The first fall was won by Sampson in 35 minutes and 20 seconds. A toe hold gave Sampson his second fall in 4 minutes and 6 seconds. "Sampson told the crowd that for a small man Finlayson was an exceptionally good man." The Wahpeton Globe said, "Finlayson stated that Sampson was the best man he had ever met and that there was no reason why he should not be in line for the championship."

PRESENTING A REAL AMATEUR CHAMPION

WINS TITLE NINE TIMES IN A ROW

National Amateur Pocket-Billiard 'Championship' is Again Captured by J. A. Shoemaker of New York, Who Outclasses the Field

BY BILLY EVANS
Bismarck has its Ty Cobb, football its Jim Thorpe, billiards its Willie Hoppe, but to my way of thinking, J. A. Shoemaker, national amateur pocket-billiard champion, is an equally interesting character.

For the ninth time in succession, Shoemaker has won the amateur pocket billiard championship of the United States. In the old days they used to call the title just plain pool championship.

In the tournament recently staged by the Cleveland Athletic Club, Cleveland, O., Shoemaker easily proved the class of the field. He always seemed to have something in reserve.

In these days when the amateur in any sport is a rarity, as proved by the recent scandal in college football, we take great pleasure in presenting J. A. Shoemaker of New York as the real thing.

Shoemaker is a New York business man. He represents a big belting concern. Pocket-billiards is his pet hobby, just as golf appeals to some, billiards to others.

Shoemaker is a credit to the game. It is a fine thing for pocket-billiards to have such a representative business man as its champion. It lends a tone to the game.

The nine-time champion has no set rules to follow. He has no definite advice to give as to how one should go about it to develop into a champion.

Shoemaker is of the opinion that temperament has much to do with success or failure in pocket-billiards. He says that he watches the temperament of his player as much as his game, particularly if he is playing his opponent for the first time.

Champion Never Worries
"I can usually tell after an opponent misses an easy shot, just how dangerous a player he is. Few games are more trying on the nerves."

I am fortunate in having a non-worrying disposition. I feel that my temperament is half my success. I always make it a point to smile when things break against me.

Sometimes it is mighty hard to do, but I always manage to put it over. It's the psychological effect it has on your opponent. The moment I see my opponent fussing and fuming about some miss, I know his game is going to suffer.

Practice is Important
Practice of course is most essential. Practice makes perfect in every sport. Pocket-billiards is no exception.

Then there is the power of concentration. I have found that younger players have a habit of growing careless. Such a lapse often spells defeat.

Adapting your game to that of your opponent is also a necessity. You can't take chances with a fellow who is constantly playing you safe.

In nine years of competition for the amateur championship of the United States, Shoemaker has lost only three games in 60. Eddie Reynolds, Harry Osborne and Earl Patterson have been the only players to win a game from him.

Shoemaker has played seven exhibition matches with Ralph Greenleaf, the present national champion. He has won three and lost four matches with Greenleaf.

A QUERY A DAY

With runners on first and second, the batter triples, scoring both runners. It is then discovered that the batter who had hit the triple was not the proper batter. The mistake was called to the attention of the umpire, who said a ball had been pitched to the next batter. What is the proper ruling?

Since the mistake was discovered, and an appeal made to the umpire before a ball was pitched to the next batter, the umpire should have called the proper batsman out. Since no bases can be run on an act of an improper batsman, the runners who scored on the hit should be sent back to their original bases, first and second.

SPALDING IS CHALLENGED BY REGULAR G. O. P.

ters, a difference that has been prevalent in North Dakota Republican circles for years largely because of the distribution of patronage which does not and can never please everyone, all Republicans were united upon Gunder Olson for national committee man. Republicans urge that if a convention is advisable the call should be issued by him. He defeated Ole Olson of New Rockford, a Nonpartisan leader in a vote of the Republicans of the state and in this crisis, it is said, Gunder Olson is the only man qualified who holds a mandate or a commission from the Republican party.

The convention at Jamestown is to be dominated by a committee consisting of 15 Republicans, 15 Democrats and 15 I. V. A. It is urged this meeting has no authority from the rank and file of the Republican party.

Those who want a Republican party in this state declare that to continue this fusion arrangement merely postpones the day of party control of political affairs. Inasmuch as Gunder Olson was endorsed in two conventions and balloted upon at two primaries, if there is to be a Republican meeting to discuss candidates, he is the proper one to call such a conference.

May Not Participate

Regular Republicans probably will not participate in the I. V. A. caucuses, to be held preparatory to the Jamestown convention. They look upon this convention as dominated by men hostile to this or that candidate and determined to name candidates and draw a program to perpetuate the Republican-Democratic alliance which regular Republicans assert has no place in the primary action.

If those who are not pleased with the Nominations made in the Republican primary want to fuse later, as assert regular Republicans, they can do so to their hearts content but to enter into a deal with Democrats in the selection of a Republican United States senator is looked upon with disfavor.

Some action is expected from Gunder Olson, national committee man. Republicans will be asked either to ignore the mugwump organization promoting the Jamestown convention or to get together in hopes that some harmony dictate party action at the primary through Gunder Olson, endorsed by both factions of the Republican party for the office he now holds.

ASSOCIATION OF COMMERCE FORMED HERE

rates and the man to be selected secretary will be versed in railroad tariffs and able to fight Bismarck's battles against discrimination in freight rates.

The securing of conventions will be another matter of major importance. A special convention bureau likely will be organized with the hotel and restaurant men as members and a special drive made along those lines, it being asserted that other cities are getting two or three conventions to one held in this city.

There is also fine prospect of Bismarck being selected by the war department for certain activities. The re-garrisoning of Fort Lincoln and the establishment at Bismarck of a department of the internal revenue to facilitate tax collections are also prospects for the new organization to take up. A number of Bismarck citizens have consented to support liberally an organization that will take up these constructive measures as well as a host of others, according to the sponsors.

It is contended that with the construction of the bridge that Bismarck will have to step or be stepped on. Competition from all sides will be keener and the need for a trained civic worker to coordinate activities in Bismarck comes more and more apparent, declares the backers of the new organization.

Within a short time a general meeting of the petitioners for a new club will be called and the names of the guarantors given and an organization perfected. Steps will be taken at once to have the new organization incorporated.

It is planned to launch in connection with the association of Burleigh County Pioneers a golden jubilee for Bismarck. Many tentative programs have been suggested, among them is a regular roundup and homecoming week. The Capital City is fifty years old this year and the people want the event commemorated in connection with the dedication of the new bridge.

HUGE ANIMAL SEEN BY SAILOR

Says That Monster Had Neck 50 Feet Long

Philadelphia, March 11.—The monster of ancient type seen in Patagonia, according to reports from the Buenos Aires zoological gardens, is not a myth, in the belief of Lieut. Commander Bevilacqua, now at the Philadelphia navy yard. The naval officer said today that he had seen a monstrous animal off the coast of Patagonia 16 years ago resembling the description of that reported seen recently in the same locality.

Lieut. Bevilacqua, commanding an American ship, said that during 1900 while in the Straits of Magellan about 500 yards off Patagonia he saw the monster. "The visibility was high and I do not believe I could have been mistaken."

"I was scanning the sky-line and saw a big boulder fall," he said. "A moment later a large animal appeared from the place where the boulder had fallen and looked out toward me. The head was like that of a horse and the neck 50 feet in length."

THE light shines through the window only when it is clean and bright on the inside as well as on the outside. And so does the light shine from the face of the little child when it is clean from within as well as without.

When their little faces are clouded with trouble, it is a sure sign that there REALLY IS trouble somewhere. Generally with their bowels.

Give them from a half to two little cubes of Analax at bed time.
